

I Create a Life . . .

And in that life have a quality of expression that is balanced and integrated.

I Have that a life that is my personal best.

*I Have it fully self-expressed physically, emotionally,
intellectually, vocationally.*

I Create self love and then love others.

I Dare to dream, I dare to risk.

I am an artist a poets and a visionaries. I,

Create a life where . . .

*I confront myself as the obstacle to my own growth and
then truly take joy in the process of self discovery.*

Being held accountable is a privilege and confrontation is respect with compassion for all. I,

Create a life where . . .

*growth away from me is not growth away from my love
and relationships. The human process is honored with the dignity and respect and I nourish my family my wife and all humankind I,*

Create a life where . . .

*there is love,
where each individual is honored for their unique gift, people
play and not perform, results are honored for more than their roles and there is dignity in everyone's work and contribution. I,*

Create a Life Where . . .

respect for the creator is expressed through my co-creation and that expression has impact on the universe.

I Create my Life and Declare it mine.
