HOW TO GET AND CLOSE A CONSULTING DEAL...
OR JUST CLOSE MORE CONSULTING DEALS (IF YOU ALREADY CONSULT)

Congrats on watching the first video in this series. In the video, you will remember that we made a bold claim...

“Consultants Make More Money”

The goal of this document is to prove and back up that claim with some real-world numbers and then show you how to break into the profitable coach and consultant market so you can make more, live more, and give more.

Plus, we will also summarize what you learned in Video #1 (without the beach volleyball lessons around minute 19:00 :).

And if you received this document and haven't watched the videos, head over to www.TopGunToolkit.com to check them out and you'll get more free training content and downloadable resources like this.

Both Mike Koenigs & Ed Rush grew their own businesses that started from consulting and business coaching. They also got a LOT of inspiration to grow their future businesses from ideas and strategies they learned as consultants.

For example, Traffic Geyser started as a tool Mike created to help his clients get more exposure online with video.

Ed's successful marketing company (the one he sold) started when two of his coaching students came to him with the idea of starting a digital marketing firm for attorneys.

Both were big business ideas that would not have been possible without a consulting or coaching base.

For Mike, his coaching even gave him access to celebrity clients including Tony Robbins, Paula Abdul, Success Magazine Publisher Darren Hardy, John Assaraf, Dean Graziosi, XPrize founder Peter Diamandis, Harvey Mackay, Brian Tracy and many more.

Growing up the son of a barber in the small town of Eagle Lake, Minnesota, Mike never dreamed he'd have a chance to meet, much less work with any of these people!

Many of our students first feel that they should have experience in an industry before being able to consult in that industry. While this can often be the case, what we found is that the reverse can be true as well. Someone might hire you for your experience and perspective in another industry. In other words, many times you consult before getting into a specific industry as a business owner.

Let's talk stats. Here is some real-life data that will put a big smile on your face. What this means is there is a WIDE open door for you to start or grow a coaching or consulting business.

Here goes...

According to Plunkett Research, the consulting market has grown from $391 billion to $415 billion in the past year. <http://www.plunkettresearch.com/consulting-market-research/industry-trends>

The U.S. Bureau of Labor reports that consulting is expected to grow by 83% making it the fastest growing industry...

"According to data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), employment in this industry is expected to grow by 83 percent—representing a gain of more than 800,000 jobs—over the 2008–18 decade. This represents both the fastest projected rate of growth and the largest expected job gain of all detailed industries. And even during the recent recession, this industry has proven resilient, recovering nearly all of the jobs it lost in the downturn."

Both Forbes and INC Magazine are saying that a consulting business (even if they're home based) is one of the top 10 most profitable business types you can run or start this year.

Forbes: http://www.forbes.com/2008/10/14/profitable-home-businesses-ent-fin-cx_mf_1014mostprofitablehomebiz.html
Inc. : <http://www.inc.com/ss/best-industries-for-starting-a-business?slide=1#10>

According to eConsultancy, 71% of businesses plan to spend more on digital marketing technology in 2013 - making it a no-brainer to get into consulting with digital marketing.

<http://econsultancy.com/us/blog/62095-71-of-businesses-plan-to-spend-more-on-digital-marketing-technology-in-2013>

What if you don't feel qualified to consult?

Have no fear, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), recently reported 28% of consultants don't have a degree of any kind. Mike doesn't have a college degree and Ed failed Kindergarten. In fact, having consulted virtually hundreds of clients over the years, rarely have any clients ever asked them about their degrees! Neither Mike nor Ed has ever lost a consulting opportunity due to a lack of education.

<http://www.fabjob.com/businessconsultant.asp>

According to the Consultant's Bible, there are about 400,000 people in the U.S. calling themselves consultants.

According to the US Small Business Association, there are 23 million small businesses in America and 150 million worldwide. And that doesn't even count the sole proprietor start-ups, home-based businesses and a lot of speakers, authors, and coaches - which according to a recent Forbes article is another 22 million.

Now let's do some math.

Let's just assume half of the small businesses alone know they need help with their business in some way. That's conservative. It's probably more, but that puts us at right around 11.5 million.

That means there are 11.5 million spread out to about 400,000 consultants.

That means each business is fighting with 28 other businesses for the attention of a consultant like you who could help them do things like: get more leads, close more sales, use social media, produce video, publish books, come up with a winning strategy, or anything on the list below.

Let's also assume that 80-90% of the 400,000 consultants have no idea how to market themselves or close deals. And, to make things worse for them (better for you), they also don't have the tools to deliver like you will after watching these training videos.

That means that the number of businesses looking for the help you can provide could be more like 100 to 200 in just a few mile radius around your town.

It's HUGE!

- That's 100 businesses who could possibly pay you $5, $10, or $15 thousand dollars a month.
- That's 100 businesses who will gladly share a percentage of profits.
- That's 100 businesses who will send you THANK YOU cards, e-mails, and messages when you simply deliver a service that can take you 30 minutes or less to set up.

It's the ultimate win-win.

Which is why now is a great time to start or grow a consulting or coaching business.

Consultants Make More Money

Sounds like a “hypey” marketing claim, right?

Wrong.

That is based on cold hard facts. Listed below are just a few of the hundreds of possible consulting niches. On the left-hand column, you can see the consulting niche. You should use that to get an idea of what you can consult on.

In fact, grab a pen and circle a few right now.

The next two columns show how much you could make working in that industry as vs. how much you can make consulting in that industry.

See the difference?

That’s where YOU come in!

		Average Difference in Pay	$37,906.49

See? Even if you are a zookeeper, cement mason, welder, paralegal, or shaman, we got you covered!

Note that the average person makes $37,906.49 MORE by consulting than working in an industry.

And in some of these industries the difference is literally 6 Figures.

And these are AVERAGES – with the right training and tools, there's no reason why you shouldn't have an unfair advantage and do much better than the average!

Consultants Make More Money!

Now, if you're looking for ideas, here's how you can get going fast.

Search through this list and check off all the skills you have in this list of possible things you can do as a consultant.

Circle the top 3-5 that you might be most passionate about.

Now imagine you could get paid for those - at a rate of a thousand dollars per day or more per project.

How much would you make per year?

Can you see what's possible for you?

This can work for you!

And the GREAT news is that the "average" consultant doesn't have 2 very valuable tools that will be at your disposal when you watch this video series:

- 1. The average consultant doesn't have access to the 6 pricing models.
You will receive all of those in Video #2.
- 2. The average consultant doesn't have the tools to deliver a great product, like you will learn about in Video #4.

Are you getting excited about this market?

You should be!

Now, if you are skeptical or you still don't know what you are going to consult on or about, don't worry. We will hold you by the hand and show you the way in the rest of these videos. Just make sure you're checking your e-mail for updates on our next installment.

Last, let's review the common mistakes you learned in the first video. Avoid these, and you are on the way to your first sale...or to growing your current business with smart tools.

Here are the common consulting mistakes...

Mistake #1:

Most people feel like they are not an expert, so they can't be a consultant.

You see...most of us downplay the value of our knowledge, experience, expertise or story. We did too...that was until we understood the Erasmuses quote that says...

"In the land of the blind, the one eyed man is king."

Mike and Ed have both earned millions being the "one eyed man."

The point is that you don't need to know EVERYTHING about a specific topic to be a successful consultant.

Waiting until you know everything means waiting forever...especially in this rapid-changing business world.

All you need to know is just a little bit more to make an exponential difference in the life of a client. Heck, sometimes they just want to bounce their ideas off you...

Brian Tracy says if you learn the content in the top three books in a business category and have gone through just one of the top training programs, you know more than 95% of all experts in an industry!

Plus, it's been our experience that when you have the software tools to back you up, it significantly accelerates that "one eyed man" principle and allows you to get more money out of every deal because you have real, tangible deliverables.

Take for example, Sandi Masori. She was a balloon artist who makes balloon sets for trade shows until she came to our training. She heard the quote about being the one-eyed man (in this case...the one eyed woman), walked into the hallway, called one of her previous balloon clients, and closed a $2,500 deal for digital marketing.

She came to our training...got the tools...but more...she got the belief that she could ask for the sale...and she did.

Mistake #2:

Not asking for the sale.

Zig Ziglar once said:

"Timid salespeople have skinny kids."

Now, being perfectly transparent, every time we quote a fee and ask for the sale, we get a little bit nervous too! It's part of being human.

BUT if you don't mind just asking, then something really great might happen.

They might just say, "YES!"

Now, everyone gets all weird about this part of the process, but it's not that hard...and most likely...the person you have been talking to has been waiting for you to ask them anyway.

So, Nearing the end of our conversation with a prospect, once their questions have been answered and once we have a general idea of how much they are going to pay, simply pause, look the prospective client in the eye and say...

"So...are you ready to get started working together?"

And then smile and do one of the hardest things to do.

Just be quiet and wait for them to say "YES!"

Mistake #3:

Not Valuing Your Time.

You will remember from the Video (the whiteboard scene) that if you want to make an extra $100,000 each hour needs to be worth at least $50.

If you want to make $1,000,000, each hour needs to be worth $500.

We cover pricing in Video #2, but we'll say this now, profitable consultants have the scripts to be able to ask for the kind of pay that gets them into the 7-Figure range.

The last mistake is...

Mistake #4:

Not Having Tools & Systems to Back You Up.

Fighter pilots have incredible tools, and while they may be some of the most skilled people on the planet, they are nothing without their planes. So it is with consultants.

You already have the knowledge you need to change the world, but you must also have the right tools and know how to use them.

It can take as little as 30 minutes to create a GREAT marketing campaign using the pre-done e-mails, webpages, and texts in Instant Customer Reinvention.

Having great tools gives you the ability to deliver a great product in minimum time.

That means you get to avoid mistake #3 and value your time...and avoid mistake #4 while having great systems.

It's what you need to open the door to a profitable consulting business. So, get ready for a wild ride.

In the next video, you'll hear our 5-Part Formula for closing deals and delivering a great product.

You'll also get our 6 Pricing Models that you can use right now.

Just be sure to check your e-mail for our next update.

For now, let us know how you liked these videos by leaving a comment on the page where you downloaded this report.

And if you're just finding this report and haven't watched the videos, make sure you tune in to www.TopGunToolkit.com. There, you'll get more great training and PDF downloads that can help you grow your income and skills that can improve the quality of your life!

We'll see you soon!
