Important Information about Revisions to Your KeyBank National Association Deposit Account Agreement

Effective October 31, 2011, the Deposit Account Agreement was revised in order to clarify current language. The following describes the changes made and amends the Deposit Account Agreement you received when you opened your Account and any subsequent amendments.

In section 6. Payment of Items; Overdrafts; Substitute Checks, the subsections titled THE FOLLOWING APPLIES TO CONSUMER ACCOUNTS ONLY and THE FOLLOWING APPLIES TO BUSINESS ACCOUNTS ONLY that describe how you can make a standard overdraft services selection have been moved to section 2. Opening Your Account and appear right after the second paragraph.

Also in section 6. Payment of Items; Overdrafts; Substitute Checks the first paragraph was revised to include more detailed information to explain the priorities and categories used to process items. The following replaces the first paragraph of this section.

6. Payment of Items; Overdrafts; Substitute Checks. Withdrawals by check are permitted only on Checking Accounts and on Savings Accounts with check-writing privileges. You agree that, when a check or other item drawn on or payable from your Account is presented for payment, we can disregard any legends on the check (such as "void after 60 days", "paid in full" or "void over $100"), any restrictive endorsements or other information, instructions and disclaimers that would limit or tend to limit the negotiability of the check or other item. We may process items in any order that we choose. Currently we process items from highest dollar amount to the lowest dollar amount within certain categories. This means, for example, that if an ATM withdrawal is made at 10:00 a.m. for $20.00, another ATM withdrawal is made at 2:00 p.m. for $60.00, and a third ATM withdrawal is made at 3:00 p.m. for $200.00, we currently process these withdrawals not in the sequence in which they were made, but from highest to lowest dollar amount. The $200.00 withdrawal is deducted from the account first, then the $60.00 withdrawal, and then the $20.00 withdrawal. This is assuming these are the only transactions that day.

We establish different priorities or categories for items including items initiated by us such as service charges. These priorities or categories are based on the date and/or time a transaction was initiated such as transactions made by you after normal business hours or items initiated by us including service charges. For example, consumer account transactions that you make on a Saturday or Sunday are posted prior to a transaction you make during normal business hours on the next business day.

The priorities or categories established may depend on your Account type. We may change the processing order at any time without notice to you.

For consumer account types, cutoff times were established to classify transactions as either prior day or current day. To do this, two daily posting groups have been established: the prior day transactions posting group and the current day transaction posting group. Transactions that are classified as prior day include but are not limited to the following:

- * Transactions initiated by you in a branch after the branch's business day cutover; including branch transactions conducted on Saturday.*
- * ATM, debit card PIN/POS, telephone, and online banking transactions conducted between 7:00 p.m. and midnight local time on the previous day; including transactions conducted between 7:00 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday local time.*
- * Debit card signature transactions with a settlement date that is prior to the current processing date are considered prior-day transactions.*

All transactions not classified as prior day are considered current day transactions. Prior day transactions will post using the current business day's processing date.

The following is the current posting order for consumer account transaction types. Certain limited exceptions may apply.

First we post prior day transactions in the following order:
 Pending Credits, Pending Debits, Credits, ATM/Everyday Debit Card, Debits All Other

Next we post current day transactions in the following order:
 Pending Credits, Pending Debits, Credits, Wire Transfers, other types of transfers, ATM/Everyday Debit Card, Debits All Other

The following is the current posting order for business account transaction types. Certain limited exceptions may apply.

We post all transactions as current day transactions in the following order:
 Pending Credits, Pending Debits, Credits, Wire Transfers, other types of transfers, Debits All Other Again, within each of these categories, we currently process items from highest dollar amount to lowest dollar amount.

In our discretion, we may process or decline to process any check more than six months old. We can also pay photocopies of checks accompanied by a representation that the original was lost or destroyed. You also agree that we can pay checks before the date set forth on the check (i.e. "post dated checks"). We have this right even if you give us notice that you wrote a post dated check. In order to prevent a post dated check from being paid, you must give us a valid stop payment order.

If you have questions about any of this information, please call the number that appears on this statement or your Relationship Manager.

IMPORTANT LINE OF CREDIT INFORMATION

What To Do If You Think You Find A Mistake on Your Statement: If you think there is an error on your statement, write us at: KeyBank N.A., P.O Box 93885, Cleveland, OH 44101- 4825.

In your letter, give us the following information:

- Account Information : Your name and account number.
- Dollar Amount : The dollar amount of the suspected error.
- Description of the Problem : If you think there is an error on your bill, describe what you believe is wrong and why you believe it was a mistake.

You must contact us within 60 days after the error appeared on your statement. You must notify us of any potential errors in writing. You may call us, but if you do we are not required to investigate any potential errors and you may have to pay the amount in question.

While we investigate whether or not there has been an error, the following are true:

- We cannot try to collect the amount in question, or report you as delinquent on that amount.
- The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount. But, if we determine that we made a mistake, you will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or other fees related to that amount.
- While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.
- We can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit.

Explanation of Finance Charge: Your Finance Charge attributable to interest (hereinafter referred to as interest) is computed using the Average Daily Balance method.

Average Daily Balance method (Balance Subject to Interest Rate): Your interest is computed on all purchases and cash advances (collectively "advances") from the date each advance is posted until we receive payment in full (there is no grace period). We figure the interest on your line of credit by multiplying the daily periodic rate by the "Average Daily Balance" of your line of credit (including current transactions) and multiplying by the number of days in the billing cycle. To get the Average Daily Balance we take the beginning balance of your line of credit each day, add any new advances or debits, and subtract any payments and credits, any non-financed fees and unpaid interest. This gives us the daily balance. Then we add up all of your daily balances in the billing cycle and divide this total by the number of days in the billing cycle to get your Average Daily Balance.

CREDIT INFORMATION: If you believe we have reported inaccurate information about your account to a credit reporting agency, you may contact the credit reporting agency or write to us at:
